Annie, Jr. Sells Out All Performances

DUBUQUE, Iowa – The Bell Tower Theater is pleased to announce that all performances of their fifth-annual kids-for-kids summer musical Annie, Jr. are sold out!

This year alone this program has more than 200 kids involved in the production. Over the course of the next two weeks more than 2,100 people will attend a performance of Annie, Jr.

Bell Tower Theater Artistic Director and Theater Manager Sue Riedel said, “We would like to thank everyone in the Tri-State area for their support of this program. We are so pleased to provide this service for the youth in our area and to offer this low cost entertainment event to the families in our community. I am proud that the Bell Tower Theater has this kind of positive impact on the Dubuque area, and we look forward to offering this program for many years to come.”

This program is made possible by grants and sponsorships from the Mediacom Foundation, Alliant Energy Foundation, Dupaco Community Credit Union and the Iowa Arts Council.
